

M. D. Advertisements.

The Gazette has a rather sensible article on the ethics of the medical profession. In California the Medical Societies do not allow physicians in good standing to advertise in the daily newspapers. A man who advertises is considered a quack. This is why the quacks are all getting rich. It is absurd to debar a regular physician from advertising his business.

It is claimed that an advertisement indicates a lack of modesty. Doctors are not as a rule afflicted with modesty. While physicians are prohibited from inserting advertisements in the papers, by foolish rules of their profession, none of them object to free advertising. If one performs a delicate and difficult operation he likes to see it fully described in the papers.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

—Reno is to sink an artesian well.

—The Modesto Republican has ceased publication.

—F. W. Breetschu, a brakeman at Sisson, fell under the cow-catcher and was killed Sunday.

—Lou Hanlin and Ralph Priest, the two Albuquerque boy horse-thieves, have been captured.

—A cave in the Wildman mine at Sutter Creek, has uncovered an immense body of rich milling ore.

—The San Diego papers publish the names of fruit-dealers found handling fruit infected with insect pests.

—Eleven acres of land north of the woolen mills at San Jose, have been leased for the site for a new Chinatown.

—The discovery that Chinese made cigars were being sold in Truckee has started another lively Anti-Chinese crusade there.

—Wade Tartar and Lee Turner, two young men working on a ranch near Tehama, were killed by the midnight passenger train Saturday.

—Ex-Probate Judge A. B. Dillenbaugh of Lewis County, Or., attempted suicide by shooting at Chehalis, Saturday, and will probably die.

—Bee hunting in the foothills south and east of Oroville has become a prosperous business. Wild bees have increased rapidly.

—A fire in the field of Mr. Humphrey, five miles south of Anderson, Shasta county, yesterday, destroyed over 1,200 acres of wheat. Five or six acres of grain were burned over in Peter Timms' field, near Kixod.

—A proposition is before the San Francisco Federated Trades to boycott beer. Each member is to pledge himself to drink wine or water until further notice.

A man may agree to boycott anything he likes, but when it comes to meeting a nice foaming glass of 5 cent beer on a hot day in a narrow alley, one hates to pass an old friend without recognizing him.

—Buffalo Bill's vigorous Western style of expression has not been spoiled by close contact with effete monarchy. In a letter to a friend in New York he says: "I have got all the big bugs solid, from the old Queen down." He thinks his show will make $1,000,000 before leaving Europe. In one week 256,277 persons paid to visit the camp.

—Ruf Shoemaker of the Grass Valley Tidings agrees with the APPEAL that he is one of the men who is tired of hearing about these Boston Girls who had themselves photographed nude. He wants to see the pictures.

—The San Francisco papers say that the home military companies are trying their best to defeat the 4th of July celebration, and the G. A. R. men are standing in nobly to make a success of it.

—Bill Nye is right as a general thing when he says that the "mellow plunk of the banjo soothes the soul," but he never heard Lyman Frisbie play the banjo.

—Sullivan has been 11 months without a drop. Of course he'll turn loose at the Queen's Jubilee.
